Name: Peg Livingood

Current title: Landscape architect for Design and Construction Management.

What that means: Livingood is responsible for planning for projects typically costing more than $250,000. She also acts as project manager in a support role for consultant services and design production.

Notable: Livingood has worked within the Transit Task Force to update and improve campus transit. Because of her efforts, KU secured $1 million from the Kansas Department of Transportation to buy buses.

Through this endeavor, she worked with the city, the Federal Transit Administration and KDOT to forge agreements so that the university would be able to operate the new buses for the new Park & Ride shuttle service.
