Name: James E. Modig
Current title: Modig now serves as director of DCM.

What that means: With his staff, Modig oversees all aspects of campus facilities improvement, from initial design to completion.

Notable: Modig is available for late evening and weekend meetings as well as emergencies, which means that sometimes there are 60 to 70 hours in his workweek.

Recent feat: Modig made significant contributions to the proposed construction of a new scholarship hall on Ohio Street. He spent countless hours researching the project and as a representative during the negotiations.